Arts Institute Sponsors Lectures On Mass Media

by Beth Ann Pierce

• THE INSTITUTE OF Contemporary Arts and the University Consortium are presenting a lecture series on the potential of mass media—movies and television—at Lisner Auditorium, this week.

The series, ICA's Fifth Annual Congress of Artists and Writers, began Monday. Both programs, open to the public, begin at 8:15 pm.

L. A. Richards and Robert Snyder will speak tonight.

Richards, Harvard Linguistic Institute director, will discuss "Standards of Literacy Via Television." A literary critic, psychologist and poet, he has helped in the effort to end world illiteracy via television.

Snyder has won prizes for his documentary films, including an Academy Award for "The Titan: Michelangelo." He will talk on "Standards for the Art of the Film."

The concluding program Wednesday includes Robert Saudek and Gilbert V. Seldes.

Saudek, former American Broadcasting Co. vice president, has been a leading critic of television and at the same time one of its staunchest defenders. He was producer-director of "Omnibus" and an officer of the Ford Foundation. He will talk on "The Arts and the Art of Television."

Seldes, author of The Seven Lively Arts, will discuss "Mass Culture and the Responsible Audience." Seldes, television program director at the Columbia Broadcasting System, believes the critic "should be angry instead of merely smart."

Last night, Dr. Samuel B. Gould, founder and president of New York's educational Channel 13, WNDT, and Charles Benton, Encyclopaedia Britannica vice president, spoke at Lisner.

Question periods will follow each lecture. The ICA will sponsor closed seminars on the day following each lecture. Participants will include students and faculty members from area colleges as well as communications experts.

Libertarians, YD's Debate Education Aid

by Jeffrey Spencer

• LIBERTARIANS and Young Democrats will formally debate Federal aid to education tonight, April 23, 8:30 pm, in Govt. 200, but the two groups are already waging an informal propaganda war.

The debate, between YDs Alan Baron and Vic Clark, who favor Federal aid, and Libertarians Paul Beach and Van Sternbergh, who oppose it, will be judged by three professors and a majority vote of the audience.

The Libertarians last week printed a leaflet that said, "Young Democrats have made no secret that they intend to stack the audience! To counter this leftist influence it is essential that we have 100 percent turnout! And bring a conservative friend!"

YD President Baron said, "If the audience is overwhelmingly Democratic it will only be because the audience will be overwhelmingly of sensible people."

Baron issued a press release in which he quoted Libertarian President Beach as saying, "Federal aid to education is simply another technique of absolutist minds to extend control of the Federal government over the American people. It is fiscally unsound, unconstitutional, unneeded and widely opposed by the people."

Baron said tentative plans call for a secret, written vote by members of the audience. He said ballots will be handed out at the beginning of the program only.

Judges include Political Science Professor H. R. Ludden, and Debate Coach Henry Krebs. Another judge will be named.

The debate's formal title is, "Resolved: That Congress should enact additional programs of Federal aid to education."

Student Life Body Action Recommends National Affiliation

• THE STUDENT LIFE Committee recommended an amendment to the Regulations Governing Student Activities at a meeting Friday, April 19 which would permit both the Young Democrats and the Young Republican organizations on campus to affiliate with their national and District of Columbia groups.

The recommendation now goes to University President Thomas H. Carroll for his and the Board of Trustees' final approval.

At the same meeting, the committee granted one year's recognition to the Students for Peaceful Alternatives and approved the national affiliation of the University's People-to-People organization.

The Committee's action with regard to the campus political organizations provided for a change in the University Regulation section of the Regulations Governing Student Activities. The section which was amended previously provided that: "no student club or society (except social fraternities, sororities, scholastic honor societies, religious or professional clubs or societies) organized as a branch or affiliate of a non-George Washington University organization will be recognized by the Committee on Student Life."

The Committee recommended the addition of the phrase: two main political parties [Young Democrats & Young Republicans] within the exceptions.

The Friday action was prompted by a request from the Young Democrats for special permission to affiliate with their national organization under the provisions of the amended Rule 11.

The club, from the time of its founding, has been excluded from outside affiliation by special clauses in its own constitution and in the University rules governing student life.

Last December 14, the Student Life Committee asked President Carroll to approve a change in the regulations which would grant it discretionary power in recognizing non-campus affiliated groups. The President approved an amendment to the prohibition against affiliation which read: "Exception to this prohibition may be made by the Student Life Committee when it is deemed to be for the best interests of the students and the University."

It was under this clause that the Young Democrats appealed for national affiliation. During the debate on the YD petition, several questions and arguments arose about possible consequences of using this exception to allow non-autonomous political groups to be formed at the University. As an alternative to a possible future loop-hole the Committee decided to make a special exception for the two campus political organizations and therefore amended the regulations to permit their affiliation as a specially exempted group along with the others named.

The Committee did, however, approve the People-to-People re-

Novice Debaters Win Firsts in All Divisions

• THE UNIVERSITY'S NOVICE debaters swept all three top honors at the Randolph-Macon College tournament last Saturday, April 20. Ranking as both the top affirmative and the top negative teams, the four debaters brought home the sweepstakes trophy.

In addition, they won the awards given to the top four speakers in the tournament.

Debating the affirmative, Richard Moll and Victor Clark won three and lost one decision, defeating Chowan College, Elizabethtown College, and St. Mary's College, but bowing to the University of Virginia. Vic Clark was the top affirmative speaker and Rich Moll tied for second speaker honors. This is the third time in three tournaments that Clark has placed as the top speaker.

Gerald Sazama and Tom Harris, debating the negative side, won all four of their rounds; they defeated Princeton University, the University of Richmond, Old Dominion College, and Chowan College. Harris tied with a Princeton debater for the top speaker rating and Sazama was the second best negative speaker.

Fourteen schools participated in the meet; the University of Virginia and Princeton University ranked as second negative and second affirmative respectively.

Last March 30 the school's speakers competed in the Washington Maryland Forensic League Tournament at Howard University. The University placed second in that meet.

The University's debaters ranked as the second affirmative and second negative teams in both varsity and novice divisions; individually each speaker ranked in the top five speakers in each division.

Representing the University were Victor Clark, Val Halaman-daris, Gerald Sazama, Joe Pin-cus, Tom Harris, Richard Moll, Paul Chernick, and Jim Paulson.

The debaters discussed the topic, Resolved: that the non-Communist nations of the world should establish an economic community.

New Phi Sig House Dedicated Saturday

• SATURDAY NIGHT the Phi Sigma Kappas dedicated their new house on G Street, the annual Phi Sig observance of Founder's Day.

Highlights of the evening included an address by Dr. Paul Bissell, Dean of Men, and speeches by District Governor, Carl Ruwach, Regional Vice President, Harold Pierce, and prominent alumni from across the country. The fraternity presented its fifty-year membership pin, and dedicated the Phi Sig "Ballroom" to their chapter advisor, Earnest F. Wenderoth. Cocktails were served from 6:30 to 8, followed by a dinner for over 150 alumni, actives and pledges.

A combination of alumni funds and proceeds from the sale of the old house, located on New Hampshire Ave., covered the major expenses in construction of the new house. It has living quarters for 32, although only 25 brothers are presently living there. The first floor, "Ballroom," kitchen, and bedroom (in case the need of living quarters for a housemother arises), are actually the only rooms thoroughly completed. The remaining rooms will be finished by the brothers. New bedroom furniture has already been purchased and the Phi Sigs expect to have furniture for the first floor by September.

Sororities To Vie In Events At Sigma Chi Derby Day

• THE ANNUAL SIGMA Chi Derby Day will be held on Saturday, April 27, at Fort Hunt, Virginia, starting at 1:30 p.m.

The theme for this year's meet, which features un-orthodox women's track and field events, is "Commercials and Advertisements," and each sorority will devise costumes conforming to that slogan.

Kappa Delta sorority is the defending champion, and other entrants are Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, Sigma Delta Tau, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Judging the events will be Dr. Paul V. Bissell, Dean of Men, Dr. Richard W. Stephens, Assistant

Dean of the Columbian College, Captain Garrell of the Air Force ROTC, Dr. Ellison of the economics department, and Mr. H. J. Cantini, assistant treasurer of the University.

On Saturday morning, before the field events, each sorority will sponsor an entrant in the Miss Venus Contest. Points toward the sweepstakes trophy will be awarded to the sororities whose nominees place. Points will also be awarded to the sororities who steal the most derbies in the Derby Snatching Contest on Friday.

Following the festivities at Fort Hunt, the annual Keg-killing Contest will be held; all fraternities have been invited to try to defeat Alpha Epsilon Pi as the champion drinkers.

Events included in the field contest are: Low Hurdles, Butter Fingers, Dessert, Chug it, The Sweep, Hot Seat, Fire Call, Witch's Brew, Pie in the Sky, and the Mystery Event.

Potential jurors may sign a duty sheet posted on the Student Union bulletin board.

The Honorable Edward A. Beard, judge of the court of general sessions in the District will be presiding.

Taylor is accused of murdering Nolan Danchik in an argument over an unidentified girl, Friday, April 5, in the Student Union. Speaking for the defense will be: Robert M. Werdig, senior council, and Dean S. Clatterbuck, junior council. William Swope will be senior council acting for the prosecution. He will be aided by Paul Egbert. All participants in this annual trial are third-year law students.

International Exchange . . .

• LAST YEAR ABOUT 1200 Americans went to Russia and 1000 Russians came to the U. S. under the official exchange program between the two nations, according to the New York Times Sunday edition.

These visits, and smaller programs conducted by Moscow with other nations in the west, indicate the extent to which the Kremlin under Khrushchev has relaxed Stalin's policy which strictly isolated the Soviet people from western ideas.

Obstructions still exist as the Soviets still refuse to allow American members of the Experiment in International Living groups to live with Soviet families in the customary homestay or even to grant them free days in some city where they might have an opportunity to develop contacts and friendships on their own. Even though the Experiment was forced for these reasons to discontinue its USSR programs, an unofficial group of Experiment alumni is forming a group of twelve to thirteen Americans to go to the USSR this summer and investigate the chances for a continued personal exchange between the two countries.

Another organization working for international understanding, the University's People-to-People program is looking for students hosts in dozens of American cities who will open their homes to their European counterparts for three to ten days this summer. The American attitude toward international exchange is exemplified by a remark by Bill Michaels, President of the University's People-to-People Club, that "This American-student contact is being stressed so the visiting Europeans may really learn what we are like."

One group works to salvage a still valuable program and the other to implement a fairly new program; both deserve the wholehearted cooperation and efforts of our University community.

Vandalism . . .

• WHEN THE CHILD outgrows kneepants and nurseries it is supposed that he has left behind him some of the other trappings of infancy—such child-like actions as writing on the walls, and defacing property. This would not seem to be universally accepted among college students.

In the past few weeks, Howard University has brewed up a storm with its dismissal of eight students involved in alleged acts of "vandalism." Many felt this was far too severe a penalty to inflict upon fun-loving, mess-making students. Yet, where are the lines to be drawn between what is fun and what is malicious mischief?

This University is not altogether untouched by the hand which bears the crayon, or the pencil, or the penknife. It is true that students can read the traditional handwriting on the restroom wall. It is generally prolific and colorful. There is however, little reason to transfer the prose to more public areas. Yet a recent survey by a HATCHET staff member found the following running commentaries inscribed on Booth 27, language lab room 202, Building C:

L'Algerie Francaise

Non, Paix en Algerie—Independence pour l'Algerie—

Le President De Gaulle a raison (comme un chien)

De Gaulle est un cochon!

Merde a L'idiot qui l'a ecrit

Finissons De Gaulle

Algeria for the Algerians!

Money for the Americans!

Aspirin for the Russians (students) this lab is painful!

Are you from Boston? Yes, no, Red Sox

PEACE FOR ALL —viele idiot!!—

PIECE FOR ALL

SAE is tops at GWU and that's not saying much

Red Sox

The Greek system here at GW STINKS—the Greeks take too much garbage from the GW administration. Freedom for all now—And before?

Your lousy handwriting

LAE Jerry I love you only LAE

In the scoreboard for fraternity inscriptions, SAE won with 13, and Kappa Alpha Theta won with 15 in the sorority division, following a total of 36 carvings for 15 other Greek groups.

Psychiatrists have traced the desire to mark up walls to a deep seated trauma of childhood. Can it be that every campus has groups of grown-up children in lieu of mature adults? Or is this all part of a subversive campaign to inflict ugliness upon the environs of the University? Perhaps it might be wise to provide the artists with materials, fingerpaints, and proper classroom hours for kindergarten play therapy.

Taylor's Fiancee Reveals Part in Danchik Murder

By Sherry Glean

• THE NERVOUS, distraught girl ran her hands through her hair and moaned.

"I feel so responsible for all this mess."

This mess is the murder case of Nolan Danchik, in which Mary Maddox, 20, has emerged as the third element in a triangle of name-calling and romance. Miss Maddox is the ex-fiancee of defendant Phil Taylor. She is the girl whose name he sought to protect when he shot Danchik. The victim's assaults upon Miss Maddox's character were the cause of Taylor's violence.

Miss Maddox, a resident of Southeast Washington, is a junior at the University and a journalism major. Engaged to Taylor since February, she is the sweetheart of his fraternity, Sigma Nu.

Mary Maddox

Danchik had been an acquaintance of Miss Maddox for several years. They both attended Martin Van Buren High School in New York City. The victim was a close friend of Miss Maddox's former boyfriend.

"Nolan knew the nasty rumors that had been spread around about me in New York. I had a reputation in his high school fraternity which was unjustified."

Miss Maddox picked at some loose threads on her dress and stared at the floor while explaining these rumors.

"I was a victim of circumstance. But the rumors drove me crazy, so I came to Washington to get away from it all. I don't know why Nolan said those things to Phil. He had no reason for doing it," she said.

The ordeal of the murder shows in Miss Maddox's physical appearance. Deep circles have formed under her eyes, her clothes are disheveled, and her left eyebrow twitches uncontrollably. She complains that her grades have fallen and she is unable to study. She says that she has become a daily visitor to Brownley's Grill where she spends all her lunch money on beer.

Miss Maddox also learned yesterday that Taylor had broken their engagement. He told her

Not True . . .

AGAIN, THIS STORY is not true; it is background material for the Law School's annual Mock Trial which starts Tuesday, April 23.

that he no longer felt she was the type of girl he wanted to marry. Miss Maddox said that she understands how he feels, but she is sure that she can convince him otherwise when the trial is over.

"The first problem is to get Phil out of jail. You can't do much convincing when someone's in jail."

Miss Maddox is confident that Taylor will be relieved of responsibility for the murder.

"Phil is a good man. He's hot-headed, but he'd never do anything like this if he weren't angry. Nolan always was a big mouth. Frankly, I think it just finally caught up with him."

People-to-People Seeks Students To Host Visitors

• THE UNIVERSITY People-to-People organization is seeking students to host their counterparts visiting the United States this summer as participants in national People-to-People's student-abroad exchange.

Two hundred to three hundred European students will take part in the exchange. They will stay from three to ten days in major cities in the U.S. as guests in the homes of American students.

Deadline for applying to take part in the program is Thursday, April 25. Applications may be obtained from Bill Michaels, Adams Hall 809, Mike Solenevich, Calhoun Hall; Anne Sanders, Crawford Hall; and Claire Adams, Madison Hall. Applications will also be available in the People-to-People office on the third floor of the Student Activities Building, Wednesday afternoon.

Students who live in or near the following cities are eligible: Baltimore; Cleveland; Columbus; Toledo; Philadelphia; Pittsburgh; Richmond; Washington; Hartford; Boston; Keene, N. H.; New York City; Rochester; Buffalo; Providence; Chicago; and South Bend, Ind.

Also Iowa City; Des Moines; Ames, Iowa; Detroit; Ann Arbor; Milwaukee; Madison; Denver; Boulder, Colo.; Lawrence, Kans.; Kansas City, Mo.; Lincoln, Neb.; Omaha; Tulsa; Albuquerque; Salt Lake City; Napa, Calif.; San Francisco; Fresno; Los Angeles; San Diego; Reno; Portland; Seattle; Cincinnati; Niagara Falls; Columbia, Mo.; and Modesto, Calif.

Experimenters Plan Tour of Soviet Bloc

• TWELVE TO THIRTEEN spaces are open to visit the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary this summer as part of an unofficial group organized and sponsored by alumni of The Experiment in International Living.

Two years of college Russian or the equivalent is required for application. Preference will be given to persons over the age of twenty who have completed the junior year of college, and to those who have been Experimenters. The fee for each member of the group will be about $975, excluding spending money and sleeping bags.

The leader, Miss Heather Campbell, was a member of an Experiment group to the USSR in 1960 and is now a graduate student in the Soviet Area Program at Harvard University. Further information is available by writing Heather Campbell, 9 Lancaster Street, Cambridge 40, Mass., or calling The Experiment in Washington, 1346 Connecticut Avenue, NW, (DE 2-7800).

The Experiment in International Living was one of the first organizations to participate in the Soviet-American cultural exchange in 1958. Experiment groups traveled to the USSR in 1958-1961, and The Experiment also helped make the arrangements for Soviet groups visiting the United States.

They have also rejected an Experiment proposal that the group be given ten free days in some city where the Experimenter might have an opportunity to develop contacts and friendships on his own. The stay in an International Youth Sports Camp, the Soviets' substitute for a homestay, has been constantly restricted in length, and sharing rooms and even eating with young Soviets has been discouraged.

However, to maintain the spirit of the Experiment and to provide for a continued personal exchange between the two countries, an informal organization of former Experimenters has been formed to send a group of twelve or thirteen Americans to the USSR this summer.

The group's program will begin in the Boston area with a pre-embarkation orientation session of three or four days. The group will then fly from New York to Paris, June 28, proceed from there

Two Films Scheduled

• THE CULTURAL Foundation film committee will present two movies—Thursday, April 25, at 8:30 pm, in Corcoran 319.

"The Land," directed by Robert Flaherty, traces American agriculture through the depression years. It deals with sharecropping, migrant labor, deserted, eroded lands and government efforts to help the farmer.

"Night Mail," released in 1936, depicts the Postal Special's nightly ride from London to Glasgow. It is called "an aesthetic landmark . . . in the history of the sound film." It combines natural sound, music by modern British composer Benjamin Britten, and commentary in verse by poet W. H. Auden.

BUT WHO WILL CENSOR...
Emory University's WHEEL is smarting under criticism for its April Fool's issue. An unknown Emory "official" told the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION that the WHEEL's stories would not be allowed, "to get out of hand."

The paper fumes "Is The South's Most Independent Collegiate Newspaper" independent only so long as it does not attempt to adopt an extreme policy?"

Howard University

EXTREME POLICY—HOWARD University is in an uproar over the suspension of several students for alleged vandalism. Charges and countercharges suggest that the students may have been dismissed as a result of guilt by association. The students, whose academic records were generally questionable, claimed that they weren't sure if they were "being punished for not having information, for their attitudes, or for playing pool."

Wittenberg University
VANDALISM-ROBBERY—Wit-

tenberg University, which has an open stack library, is suffering from an acute case of stack depletion. "Common practice—is to simply lift-out a book from the stacks" and place it among the student's own texts. "This manner of checking-out eliminates fines, competition for a necessary book, and of course is ultra-safe. No one knows who has the book. No one except you."

Occidental College

STILL GREATER LATITUDE. A proposal at Occidental would eliminate entirely the number-letter grading system for undergraduates. In its place would be substituted "Honors," "Good," "Pass," and "Fail." An editorial points out the difficulties and problems inherent in such a system, but sees some possibility of success.

University of California

plies that student government organizations should be abolished. "We hold that class government is a waste of time and money because it gives titular political advantage to aspiring student politicians without significant training in leadership. We feel class governments are do-nothing organizations that most undergraduates could care less about."

Temple University

AND FINALLY—Temple's Tyler School of Fine Arts is meeting with opposition from the citizenry in its attempt to build dormitories. The local people claim that Tyler students are guilty of "offensive conduct" including nude swimming parties in neighboring pools and the carrying of nude paintings along public streets."

Alum. Football Game Planned For April 27

● THE COLONIAL VARSITY athletes of the past will face next year's grid heroes in the 1963 Alumni game this Saturday, April 27, at Washington and Lee High School in Arlington.

The game, slated to begin at 2 p.m., will feature such past greats as Bill Hardy, Lou De Simone, John Caracciolo, Nick Anselmi, Alex Sokaris, Bob Barbieri, Andy Guida, and Peter Wasilewski. There is also a possibility that Mike Sommer, one of the Universities' greatest backs will join the more than two dozen outstanding Colonial players of the past four years.

Preparing for the game, the Varsity held an intersquad duel last Saturday. The second unit emerged, 8-6, over the first squad at Columbia Island. Dick Drummond ran with the second unit backfield along with Steve Welpott, Don Lauer and Bob Grier.

Don Laurer scored the second unit's lone touchdown on a powerful trap play up the middle for 60 yards. Steve Welpott ran the conversion for the remainder of the victorious second unit's points.

Harry Haught sparked for the first units score. Haught, running from the halfback slot, scored his touchdown on a 50-yard sprint around the left end. Tom Branch served the first unit as quarterback while Fred Dorazio and Jim Johnson rounded out the backfield.

It will be the first time since 1959 that the alumni have been rounded up for the contest. Ray Hanken, also a former GW great, will serve as coach for the Alumni squad. Hanken is a professor of physical education and also serves as end coach for the present Varsity grid squad.

Jim Camp, varsity coach, looks forward to meeting the top players of the past. He will send his best prospects against the ex-wearers of the buff and blue in a "no holds barred" contest.

Tickets for the game are on sale at the University Athletic Office, 2027 H St., N.W. Admission for adults will be $1 while high school students will be admitted for $.50. There will be no charge for children under 12 and University students will be admitted upon presentation of their student identification cards.

Cheerleading Tryouts May 2

● TRYOUTS to fill the four vacancies on the cheerleading squad will take place Thursday, May 2.

To qualify for the position, a girl must have a Q.P.I. of 2.00, a minimum work load of 12 semester hours, and must have been at the University at least one semester.

Practices are to be held daily from April 22 to May 1 from 5 to 6 p.m. in the boys' Gym. All interested girls may attend. The new cheerleaders will be chosen by present cheerleaders, members of the Physical Education Department, and coaches, on the basis of poise, technique, personality, voice, jump, and coordination.

These new girls will be presented on May Day along with the new Captain and officers of the squad.

Injuries Plague Colonial's Team

● THE UNIVERSITY Baseball team, somewhat like the amazing New York Mets, can't seem to get in high gear. The Buff and Blue has been plagued with injuries.

John Papanicolas, the Colonial's winningest pitcher of last season, has been sidelined with a thrown arm since the pre-season workouts. It looks like John will be lost for the whole season as his arm has not yet responded to treatment.

Merv "Bearcat" Holland, who is slated to be next year's field general for the football forces, was loaned to the diamondmen on the chance that his strong right arm would help fill the gap left by the loss of starter Papanicolas. "Bearcat's" efforts have been of little avail as he too has been plagued with a sore arm.

On the brighter side, Neil Hausig and Steve Baer are both in good shape and are throwing the ball harder than ever. However, they have not yet been able to find the plate, and consequently have been of little relief to the beleaguered Colonials.

The one bright spot in the pitching department has been sophomore right hander, Tony Romasco. Tony Romasco has been transferred from a football scholarship to a full baseball grant. He is the Buff's only winning pitcher and has been credited with two wins, so far.

Out of the nine games GW has played, "Romo" has started five of them. In his last outing against the Richmond Spiders, Tony scattered seven hits and three runs, but two of the runs were earned. Romo's earned run average is 3.42, the best in the Southern Conference.

Another strong part of the Colonial squad is the hard-hitting outfield. Mark Clark, especially, has been hitting the ball hard. Clark has a .321 batting average going as he is 9 for 28, with four extra base hits to his credit.

The infield however seems to be Coach Reinhart's weak area. Paul Lewis started the season as pitcher and was soon switched to the was in the catcher's spot has been catcher position. Bill Brzezinski, moved to third base. Joe Mullan has moved from third, to second and is now fielding at the shortstop position. Mullan's last switch moved shortstop Neal Hausig to the outfield.

Coach Reinhart has been moving everyone around in order to see where the team plays best, something that should have been ironed out in the pre-season period. Because of the shifts the Colonials seem to be "Jacks of all trades and masters of none."

The big Southern Conference test will be against West Virginia who is still undefeated, 4-0, in the conference competition.

to Munich by train to pick up two Volkswagen Microbuses, and drive through Austria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia to Uzhgorod, a Soviet border point. From there the group will drive to Kiev, Tbilisi, Moscow and Leningrad, staying at specified camping sites in these intermediate cities.

After leaving the Soviet Union by way of Brest-Litovsk, the group will spend a week in Poland, primarily in Warsaw and Poznan, then return through East Germany, and from there train back to Paris. They take the return flight to New York on August 29. In countries other than the Soviet Union, the group will stay in students' quarters at universities or hostels wherever possible.

Colonials Top Furman In Season's First Win

by Mike Scradato

● THE COLONIALS gave themselves an Easter present when they scored their first diamond victories of the season by trimming Furman 9-4 at Greenville and Richmond 5-3, losing to the Citadel and Georgetown.

The Colonials pounded out 11 hits and capitalized on six Paladin errors to enjoy their best-run production of the season. Bill Brzezinski, Bob Smith, Neil Hausig and Bob Lewis each collected two hits, with catcher Paul Lewis driving in two runs.

The big inning for the University was the fifth, when the team tallied four times on only three hits. The Purple Paladins kept picking away at the four point lead and at one point narrowed the game, 4-3. But the Colonials were not to be had, as they iced the game with two runs in the eighth and three more in the ninth.

Sophomore pitching star, Tony Romasco, turned in another fine performance as he went the distance, scattering twelve hits.

On Good Friday, with only four pitchers in the lineup because of the holiday, after a long ride from Greenville, the Colonials were no match for the Citadel.

The Colonials repeated their past performances as two Citadel pitchers limited the Colonial players to fouls and the Bulldogs won a 7-3 Southern Conference game at Charleston.

Bill Machorek and John Zeto were never in serious trouble, while their teammates pounded out 11 hits off of the GW pitchers. Starter Steve Baer was hit hard for the third time in succession. In five innings he yielded five runs on ten hits. John Papanicolas, testing his sore arm, finished up.

Infielder Bob Smith sparked the Colonials attack with three hits including a triple and two RBIs.

● LAST THURSDAY, THE Colonials chalked up their second Southern Conference victory, spoiling Richmond's Conference debut with a 5-3 victory over the Spiders at Richmond.

GW pitcher Tony Romasco pitched a complete game for the second time in a row giving up three runs on nine hits and striking out six. The victory evened the University's conference record at 2-2.

With the game tied at 3-3 in the ninth, the Colonials pushed across two unearned runs on Joe Mullan's single, an infield error, a walk, a sacrifice fly by Mark Clark and another error to win 5-3. Neil Hausig and Joe Mullan each had two hits apiece for the Colonials.

● ON SATURDAY, THE Hoyas of Georgetown took advantage of poor pitching and a leaky infield to drub the Colonials 18-6 at the Hilltop.

Georgetown took advantage of scoring opportunities as the Colonial moundsmen gave up 11 hits and 12 walks while the charitable infield committed five errors. First baseman Joe Brogan led the Hoyas' attack with four hits and a home run with five runs batted in.

Although Colonial pitchers Merv Holland and Neil Hausig took a tremendous shellacking, the ever-improving batsmen enjoyed a good day. Bob Smith had a perfect day, going three for three including a homer, a triple and two runs batted in. Bill "Fireplug" Brzezinski and Paul Lewis also homered.

The Colonials have showed a marked improvement in their last four ball games. They played extremely well, winning two out of three against their conference foes.

The hitting really began to take shape as the Colonials banged out 18 hits and 14 runs in their Conference victories over Furman and Richmond. Even though the batters have made tremendous gains, they must definitely cut down on their strikeouts. Against the Citadel, Richmond and Georgetown, 24 batters went down on strikes.

Bob Smith's hitting has helped spark the team. He banged out three hits against the Citadel and Georgetown.

With the exception of Tony Romasco, who has won GW's two ball games with splendid pitching performances against Furman and Richmond, the rest of the pitching has been mediocre. Steve Baer, Merv Holland and Neil Hausig were clobbered. The Colonials are hoping that last year's pitching star, John Papanicolas can get his tender arm back in shape, so he can give Romasco some much-needed assistance.

In the three Southern Conference games this week, the rejuvenated Colonials will have to be at their best. Tuesday, they meet the Cadets from VMI, and Thursday they will host the undefeated West Virginia Mountaineers in a doubleheader.

All three games will be played at home. Thursday's game will start at 1 p.m.
